

Supplementary terms and conditions

1. Software licences
  - a. The customer is aware that third parties may conduct audits at Previder, relating, among other things, to the quantity and type of software licences that are active on the 'Previder Cloud Platform'. The customer acknowledges in this regard Previder's interest in receiving a timely and correct statement from the customer of the quantity, type and category of licences that the customer purchases from third parties and uses on the 'Previder Cloud Platform'.
  - b. Upon Previder's first request, the customer will immediately, and in any case within five working days, provide the supplier with the written information requested by Previder in relation to third party licences that the customer uses on the 'Previder Cloud Platform'. This includes information such as the quantity, type and category of third party licences and the name of the licence holder.
  - c. The customer indemnifies Previder against damages and costs (including any fines imposed on Previder) that may arise if the customer violates the provisions of this article.

2. Price changes
  - a. If one of Previder's suppliers changes its prices during the contract term, these changes may be passed on to you immediately.
  - b. Previder reserves the right to change prices in accordance with the CBS price index for business services at the start of a new calendar year.